MORE VICTIMS.

Holmes' Record Grows Darker—Whispered Crimes No More Feared in Their Nature.

CHICAGO, July 23.—To the long list of murders and other crimes directly traceable to the arch-fiend Holmes, must now be added the mysterious disappearance of Mrs. L. I. Connor and her 13-year-old daughter, with a reasonable certainty that they may have been disposed of in the same manner in which the rest of his victims met their death. Mrs. Connor and her child was last seen in the company of Holmes in this city in 1903. Since then all traces of them have been lost, and the whereabouts of the detective who, at the instigation of the woman's family, have been working on the case are now of the opinion that the finding of their bodies is the only possible solution of the mystery. The hunt for Mrs. Connor and her child has not, until lately, been made on the theory that they had been murdered. It was pursued in an effort to locate the woman and get her away from the influence of Holmes, in whose net she had been trapped, and it was not until the disclosure of his work in connection with the Pictel case were made that her friends began to fear the lives of herself and child had been taken.

CHICAGO, July 23.—It is the intention of the Chicago police to make every effort to have H. H. Holmes, the insurance swindler, brought here to answer the charge of having murdered the Williams sisters. The local officers are convinced that the murder of the Chicago girls was the first committed by Holmes, and they argue that in consequence he should be required to stand trial for it first. They will also insist that they will be able to produce evidence that he did murder the sisters. It developed that the substance on which the first report of the finding of the bones of Minnie Williams was based, was in the hands of Detective Geyer of Philadelphia. It was said that he visited Chicago a week ago, and when he left, carried with him positive evidence that a body had been burned in the big stove in Holmes' office. It was also learned that Detective Geyer would come to Chicago after he completes his search for the remains of Howard Pictel in Detroit, and will co-operate with the Chicago officers in whatever may be done hereafter. In police circles it was said that the only hope of convicting Holmes was in Chicago. It was said that the Philadelphia authorities could convict of nothing more serious than insurance swindling, and that the Canadian authorities would not go to the expense of extraditing and trying him. In the event that Detective Geyer fails to locate the body of Howard Pictel in Detroit, everything will depend on the work of the Chicago police. The task in the explosion took place Saturday has been filled with water, and it will require the services of a fire engine to pump it out before the investigation can proceed.

CLARENCE A. PHILLIPS, now in the grocer's business, helped build the tank which exploded Saturday. It was first used in the glass bending experiments, and later in the experiments in making illuminating gas. Phillips' acquaintance with Holmes was in 1903, when he was employed by him in the glass bending experiments. Evidence that Holmes committed the murders attributed to him is rapidly accumulating. Eighteen inches beneath the uneven surface forming the floor to the basement of the Holmes building in Englewood was discovered a blood-stained and blood-soaked carpet. The stained and blood-soaked carpet was found to have belonged to Minnie Williams before her disappearance. The Chicago police now believe that Holmes built his Chicago house for the sole purpose of killing people for insurance.

DETROIT, Mich., July 23.—Detective Geyer of Philadelphia is in the city and will make a further effort to find the body of the missing boy, Howard Pictel. Geyer has all along held that the boy was murdered in Detroit, and has several clues, but what they are he is not yet ready to tell.

BATTLE IN CUBA.

The Spanish Troops Fought Bravely Against Heavy Odds.

Again and Again They Repelled Fierce Onslaughts of the Insurgents—The Battle Lasted Seven Hours—Gen. Santa Clides Killed—Rebel Loss Heavy.

HAVANA, July 23.—Further details have been made public of the recent battle between insurgents and government troops between Manzanillo and Bayamo. Captain General Martine Campos left Manzanillo for Bayamo with 1,000 troops. On July 13 his force was ambushed by several thousand insurgents near Valenzuela. The Spanish forces were under the actual command of Brig. Gen. Santa Clides, who was the military commander of the Manzanillo district. The Spanish troops fought bravely, again and again repelling the fierce charges of the rebels. It was thought that the principal object of the attack was to capture Gen. Campos. The troops formed a hollow square about him, thoroughly determined that he would not be taken unless it was over their dead bodies. The battle lasted seven hours. During one of the charges Gen. Santa Clides was killed. Gen. Campos then took command of the troops, and finally succeeded in defeating the rebels. The insurgents left 500 dead and wounded in the field. Among the dead were the leaders Rabi and Moncada. The government loss was 73 killed, including two officers, and a number of wounded.

MADRID, July 23.—A dispatch from Havana states that Gen. Navarro, with 5,000 men, has arrived at Bayamo in a critical position. Col. Aldane with a battalion, is expected to arrive at Bayamo very shortly. A decisive battle is imminent.

This is from the pen of Henry Watterson, the editor whom the Republican press and speakers so often love to quote—when it suits their purposes: "All that is happening in Kentucky, as far as it relates to Kentucky, is peanuts politics. The record of twenty-five years unbroken Democratic administration of the State Government is one of extraordinary merit. There has been less of waste, less of loss of scandal, and more of efficiency, than can be shown during the same period by any other of the State Governments of the Union. There is no domestic or personal reason why there should be a change of parties at Frankfort."

Hays For Legislature.

We learn that Mr. John Hays, of Charley, this county, will probably be a candidate for the Legislature on the Democratic ticket. If he enters the race he will go in to win, and will get there in November in great shape.

The arrangements have not yet been completed for the joint debate between Gen. Harris and Mr. Bradley.

The Populist, Tom Pettit, should not be allowed to take part in the debate between Harris and Bradley. Let him secure audience through his own efforts. Professional howlers should not be given any advantage by other parties.

A man may go, a man may lie, and a man may puff and blow, but he can't get things by sitting in the office and waiting for business to come. The United States mint is a business that can make money without advertising.—Re-

The Elizabethtown News has been preparing its ammunition for a brisk battle with the Republicans on State issues. Mr. H. A. Sumner, the editor of the News, is one of those who favor leaving out national issues in the campaign and devoting the discussion to State issues. The News says: "With national politics eliminated from the race, Democracy is willing and anxious to take up the gauntlet thrown down by the Republicans to discuss State matters. It is perhaps well that the Democratic party of Kentucky should be called upon to give a full account of its stewardship. For twenty-eight years it has controlled affairs in Kentucky, and if it has mismanaged them it should be turned out of power. We welcome the issue. We invite the closest scrutiny into the conduct of the State government. It is a record that the party is proud of and one that can stand out in the light of public discussion."

"It has established and maintained a system of public schools that is unequalled in any of the old slave States, except Texas. Under the fostering care of the Democratic party the per capita of each child of school age has been increased from fifty cents to $2.75. It has given to the negro children equal school privileges with the whites. Under its wise arrangements it has given the children in the Republican mountain fastnesses an equality in school money with the more favored region of the Bluegrass. The funds are now sufficient to give a five-months' school each year in every district in the State without a dollar for local subscription. It has established and maintained a superior system of charitable institutions, covering the insane, feeble-minded, the blind and the deaf and dumb. To carry on the State Government proper, a tax of only fifteen cents on the hundred dollars is required, which in proportion to the assessable wealth bears to the population is less than in thirty-six of the States."

"It has indebtedness of only $500,000 and this can better be appreciated by a comparison with some of the States under Republican rule: Maine has a debt of $3,470,908; New Hampshire 2,691,019; Massachusetts 7,207,319; Connecticut 3,740,200; Pennsylvania 4,069,610; Ohio 7,135,806; Michigan 5,308,204; Kansas 1,119,658."

"Now examine the record of every southern State that has come under the ban of Republican rule since the war and compare its debts with the insignificant debt of Kentucky: Alabama $52,761,017, reduced since under Democratic rule to $12,413,190; Arkansas $13,308,000, reduced under Democratic rule to $3,671,782; Florida $15,797,587, reduced Democratic rule to $1,031,013; Georgia $14,460,500, reduced under Democratic rule to $10,140,542; Louisiana $40,021,734, reduced under Democratic rule to $46,088,585; North Carolina $34,887,475, reduced under Democratic rule to $7,708,100; South Carolina $22,480,514, reduced under Democratic rule to $7,943,592."

"Every one of these enormous debts was contracted while the States were under Republican rule. These figures tell in unmistakable language the difference between Democratic and Republican domination in the South, and in comparison every Democrat in Kentucky can afford to point with pride to his State and to his party's record."

POTTER KY.

Mrs. T. J. Branham is on the sick list. Born to the wife of Andy Caine, a girl.

Our Public school opened Monday with good attendance, with Charles E. Stone teacher.

Rev. Caudle, of Cereto, held quite an interesting Meeting here for the past week and had a large attendance.

Miss Mary Yates and sister Lullie have been visiting friends and relatives in this vicinity. Also Miss Julia and Pet Copley and Emma Waldeck, of Louisa.

Ethel Evans, of Adams, has been visiting her cousin Ida Hulet.

Eli Sloan has gone to Louisa to work at the wagon trade.

MOUNTAIN CITY, MO.
It was my great pleasure to visit my parents on Little Blaine last October. Owing to limited time we were unable to visit all our friends, to many of whom we owe debts of gratitude for favors in other days. It was a matter of regret to me that I was unable to comply with the cordial request of Mrs. French to preach in his pulpit in the city of Louisa.

It was six years ago last May since my departure from Little Blaine for Elmo, Missouri. Alas, how many whom I had known in the neighborhood of home, and adjoining neighborhoods, have since then passed over the river. How I missed many of them. And yet: Fond memory, to be sure, duty, to me that I was unable to comply with the cordial request of Mrs. French to preach in his pulpit in the city of Louisa.

Since my return home almost every letter from Little Blaine has contained some item of sad news, each it possible sadder than the preceding one. The last letter from my father speaks of the painful affliction of brother Anderson L. Moore. God grant that his suffering may be but for a little season and that he may be restored to health.

It does seem to me from what I learn through private correspondence and through the News that Big Sandy, and especially Little Blaine, furnishes more than an equal share of victims to the monster, death. How fast the death roll swells on Little Blaine and with very few exceptions those deaths are chronicled as young and middle aged persons. Whether I am entirely correct in believing that the death rate is greater in the particular locality referred to than in other neighborhoods or not it can not harm to call attention to a few fruitful sources of diseases, the avoidance of which would no doubt prevent much suffering, and lessen the death rate. I do this with nothing but respect and love for all.

Impure Water.—A large per cent. of disease is the result of impure water. Big Sandy abounds in pure water, but it also abounds in impure water. When the water is taken from wells that are properly protected and from fountain heads it is pure and healthful. But much of the water used is taken from springs found in ravines and from creeks. This water is always more or less impure from the rotten logs, leaves and other decaying vegetable matter through which the water passes. A thousand times when working on the hill at home have I stooped and drank from a spring, the water of which I knew had passed through heaps of rotten logs and decaying vegetable matter. The bottom of these springs are often covered with vermin. The thousand little curious worms that we see are simply a development of the animalcules in the water which we cannot see without the aid of a microscope. These animalcules thrive on impurities, and soon grow to be visible. They are in these little springs because the conditions are favorable for the growth of impurities. This water brings on disease, especially fever.

Poor Houses.—My poor houses that do not afford sufficient protection. Any man who is acquainted on the two forks of Little Blaine, Brushy, Rich creek and George's creek knows that many of the homes of farmers, and many of those who live in town, are not good homes—loft, many of them hardly fit to live in. I believe the kitchen is generally the most defective part of the house. Many after the primitive style—wash, iron, cook, eat and sleep in the same room; but these are not always the most uncomfortable homes. It is generally the house with a kitchen, with a chimney, that smokes, a roof that leaks, and cracks in many instances through which the icy arms of winter reach to seize and carry to an early grave wife, mother and sister. It is this rather trap, or rather death trap, called a kitchen of which I complain. I do not say that all or nearly all the homes in the hills of my native Big Sandy are of the kind described above, but that too many of them are, I am sorry to confess. I noted with pleasure when at home the many neat homes built within the past six years, but the progress in this direction is not what it should be. With material for building only a nominal price, and labor almost as cheap, every farmer ought to have a comfortable and commodious home. My brother, within the walls of your dwelling are gathered those whom God hath made most dependent upon. Without them life with you would be one long weary gloom. And after all it will be but a little while till they shall go hence. Your first care should be their happiness. You should use all your God-given powers to promote their comfort, and thus court their stay in your humble dwelling. How bitter the thought, should it ever come, that your love one's departure was hastened through your carelessness or neglect.

MODERATION. The third, and last thing that I want to speak of is moderation. The wise apostle Paul said: "Let your moderation be known unto all men." This is the golden medium between all extremes, and will apply to all our labors and enjoyments.

I have never been any place where I believe the people might be divided as strictly into two classes as on Little Blaine (the right hand fork). The overworked and "the lazy cusses." This applies pretty well to the adjoining neighborhoods. I recall many who are old men to physique who ought to be in the prime of life.

Mark Twain says, "when I was a young man I took the big end of the log and did all the lifting, now I am an old man and I take the little end of the log and do all the grunting." That is all right for the men who live to be old, but we do hate to see a man who is still young but can't do anything but grout.

As a rule the man who drinks pure water, not "red liquor," beer, or hard cider, but pure, clear, cold water, nature's own beverage, lives to a good house, and practices moderation in all things, eating, sleeping, working, playing and pleasure—that man will grow old gracefully, like the righteous man of whom David speaks: "They shall be fat and flourishing."

Effectual.—Charles J. Booth, Okeleywood, Cal., says: "I have used Ayer's Pills in my family for several years, and have always found them most effectual in the relief of ailments arising from a disordered stomach, torpid liver, and constipated bowels."

FLOYD COUNTY.
PRESTONSBURG.
Lige Wright, who was shot while trying to escape by Jailer Hall, is better and it is thought he will get well.

A troupe of young folks composed of Misses Corn Mayo, Ella Clark and Nellie Davidson; James Spradlin, Will Power, Ollie Power, Will Layne, Calvin Clark, Ben Howard, Thos. Johns, Irvin Ford and German Vance, will play "On the Brink" at court house Thursday night. It is a fine play.

Institute begins here tomorrow. All the brains of Floyd county will then be concentrated in the quiet little city of Prestonsburg.

John H. John will address the teachers of Floyd county at the opening of the institute tomorrow. John makes a good speech.

Miss Meta Smith, of Fairmount, W. Va., is visiting Miss Lucy Ford. She is a very pleasant lady.

Quite a crowd went to Bonanza today to a foot washing. It rained very hard and the creek raised and washed Brother Seal's buggy down the creek and broke it to pieces. The day was spoiled by rain; but Olinville Providence know better what we need than we do. So praise the Lord for the shower!

P. C. Russell, of Charleston, W. Va., who represents the People's Building and Loan Association of that place while walking out as far as J. D. Mayo's can find wandering back to town staggering and totally unconscious from overheating. He had walked two miles under the care of doctors Leete and Bryant and was finally restored and we are glad to see his pleasant face upon our streets again.

Hon. Harman Harris, Prestonsburg's great humorist, is the oldest born citizen in Prestonsburg. He is over sixty and yet he doesn't look to be fifty.

Will Powers, be careful! "Two souls with a single thought; Two hearts that beat as one." That was a terrible rain, wasn't it? Will John Johns says he is going to represent the people of Floyd county in the coming General Assembly.

Linn Davis is erecting a fine blacksmith shop on the old court house square. "KICKER."

"Incurable."
We know that it sounds queerish to talk about the Electropoise curing incurable diseases, but hear in mind the fact that it is the old treatment which has pronounced the case incurable. We do not make the claim that we can cure all so-called incurable diseases, but we do maintain with all earnestness that a case pronounced incurable by your family physician, is a splendid field for operation of the Electropoise. It may be just the treatment necessary, and is quite likely to be so. It fails, this is no argument against the "Poise," but in such a case, the fact of the physician's statement is proven to be true. Let many's the patient who has been given up by his physician who has again received life through treatment of the Electropoise.

Misses Oglesby and Hurst, who were guests of Miss Neva Stewart during the past three weeks, left yesterday for their homes in Arkansas and Tennessee, respectively. They are charming young ladies and their departure was sincerely regretted by all who had the pleasure of their acquaintance.

A number of young folks gathered at Judge Stewart's Wednesday evening to bid farewell to Misses Hurst and Oglesby. The evening passed most pleasantly and the final good-byes were not said until after the midnight hour, and they were spoken very reluctantly even then. These young ladies will long be remembered most pleasantly by those of our people who formed their acquaintance.

A few days ago we received an envelope bearing the postmark "Palm Springs, W. Va." It contained three personal cards—one bearing the name of Mr. J. W. Franklin, another that of his wife, and upon the other was inscribed "Miss Martha Imogene Franklin, July 26th 1895." We are well acquainted with Mr. and Mrs. Franklin, but Miss Martha is a stranger. The natural inference is that she made her first appearance upon the "stage of life" on date named.

Geo. Clark, of Catlettsburg, was here this week.

"Have tried others, but like Ayer's best" is the statement made over again by those who testify to the benefit derived from the use of Ayer's Sarsaparilla. Diseases never had a greater enemy than this powerful blood-purifier. It makes the weak strong.

Dr. H. O. Cense will be at Weldville on the second Monday in each month hereafter and remain three days for the purpose of doing all kinds of dental work. He will also go to Blaine on the fourth Monday in each month and remain three days.

Mrs. J. B. Spencer, of Charley, this county, died last Sunday night of typhoid fever. She was a noble woman and her death is a great loss to that community. Her husband is also at the point of death with the same dread disease. David Spencer, a son of thine, is very slowly recovering from a long attack, and a child of his has not expected to recover. That section has been terribly scourged by typhoid fever during the past year.

Most of the towns in Kentucky, as well as in other States, have streets or lanes bearing names suitable to the business carried on in those places. Following this as precedent how would it do to call the west side of Main Street, opposite the Court House, Chaucery Row? These legal gentlemen have offices there, and the names seem appropriate: H. T. Burns, H. C. McHenry, W. D. O'Neal, G. W. Seagles, A. J. Garred, Alexander Lackey and H. C. Sullivan.

A loud howl is going up from the people up this way about the manner in which the railroad is now treating the passenger and mail service. The kick is especially strong on account of the serious delay of the mail. The one train is made to do all the service, even that which belongs to the duties of a construction train. Cars of ballast have been sent out from Ashland by this train very frequently of late and unloaded on the way, thus delaying the train from one to two hours. This puts the mail at this and other points too late for people to get it and answer important letters by the next morning's mail.

Three of the young ladies who have been with us the past few weeks left for their homes yesterday morning: Misses Hurst, Oglesby and Moore. Yes, they have left us, and several young men are also sadly "gone." One gentleman has put his feelings into verse after this tender fashion:

Sweet minstrel of the Cumberland,
Fair singer from fair Tennessee,
The Mock-birds of thy sunny home
Are made with envy, hearing thee!

Those liquid notes, mellifluous—
When shall I hear their liquid song?
I dream I hear those dulcet tones,
Sleeping I hear the rich refrain:
Yes; from my gaze they form his
Vanished "mid many a tear and sigh."

"Adieu" was spoken; but my heart
Said "An Adieu but not Good Bye."

Mr. H. M. Broas, of New York, who has charge of the survey of the proposed Ohio & Kentucky railway in Eastern Kentucky, was in Lexington, a guest of the Phoenix Hotel.

In talking to a leader man about the work now going on, Mr. Broas said: "The route for the road has not been determined as yet. We have three routes, two of which are practicable and one possible. I think a decision in regard to the route will be made very soon. The people in the counties through which we have surveyed are all very friendly to the proposed road, and all believe it will be of great advantage to them. There is no doubt now that the road will be built."

Mr. Broas has just returned from New York and is on his way to join the surveyors now in Wolfe county.—Lexington Leader.

Judge Patton Better.
We are glad to be able to tell our readers that Judge J. S. Patton, of Martin county, who was thought to be "hopeless" ill, is improving steadily and is in good spirits. He is under treatment of a specialist, and the results so far have been very satisfactory. He has dropsy.

Seed Wheat.
One of the most reliable seed houses in Indiana has placed with Snyder Bros. a limited amount of the seed wheat to be let out to responsible farmers on shares, no farmer to get more than 25 bushels or less than 24 bushels. They also have this wheat for sale for cash. The farmers may take their choice.

The U. S. Gov't Reports show Royal Baking Powder superior to all others.

NEW RAILROAD.

Steam or Electric Road up Sandy.

Mr. H. F. Thomas has received a letter from a New York man asking him to meet him at Ironton for the purpose of giving all the information possible in regard to the Sandy Valley and the route for a railroad. He says there is a movement on foot to build an electric or a steam railroad from Pikeville to Louisa or Catlettsburg and that he wants information to aid in this project. The gentleman will probably be up here soon.

Kelly Bound Over.
Frank Kelly, charged with attempted murder, was taken before Judge Hinkle at Cherokee Wednesday. Examination was waived and he was held to answer to the action of the grand jury in the sum of $1,000. He at once gave bond.

This Beats Them.
The Bath County Banner says: E. H. Goodenover sowed 20 bushels of oats the past spring. He threshed out 320 bushels of oats one day last week, put a load or two in his barn and had about one-fourth of an acre so badly blown down that it could not be cut. He thinks the yield was fifty bushels to the acre. He will sell that threshed to the farmers of this county next spring for seed.

The Elbow Improvement Company sowed ten bushels of oats and threshed out 250 bushels, by weight. Who can beat it?

Postoffice Robbed.
The postoffice at Blaine, this county, was broken into last Tuesday night and robbed of a few dollars in small change, and possibly some other items of small value. The entrance was made through a window, with the aid of a saw and by smashing some of the glass. The office is kept in R. T. Berry's store. There is as yet no clue, but the deed was probably done by a local thief.

An Object Lesson.
A man in Louisa raised 67 bushels of potato onions and 500 gallons of sets on less than half an acre of ground. At prices ruling last spring, which were lower than for years, the crop would bring $190. The seed cost about $10, planting, working and harvesting $15—a total of $25, leaving clear $165 for forty-five hundredths of an acre. This shows what our farmers could do if they would farm in the right way and get out of the rut.

If they would diversify their crops, and raise those things for which there is demand at a price which justifies their production, they would stop into prosperity such as they have never known. "Head work" counts in farming as well as in any other business.

There are hundreds of dollars worth of onion sets shipped into this section every year, for which a good many good dollars are sent out. These sets come from Ohio, principally, where they can produce no better quality than we can.

Cash Annual Incomes.
Are very desirable, and are best obtained by taking an installment endowment in the Union Central Life Insurance Co. of Cincinnati, Ohio. A $10,000 twenty year installment endowment policy at age 35 would show these results:

Annual Premium, $25 33
Total paid 20 years, 506 60
At end of 20 years the $10,000 is due and is paid to you in 20 annual cash installments of $500 each, thus making a most desirable income in your old age. In case you die before 20 years the $10,000 is paid to your family in 20 installments of $500 each. You get a handsome cash income in your old age and if you die your family gets $500 annually for 20 years.

Mr. and Mrs. Land Holt, of Busseyville, were visiting relatives at this place Saturday and Sunday.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

Denver, Colorado.

Ed. News: You will see from letter head where I am. I stayed in Colorado Springs eight days, but it rained half the time and snowed on the mountains; so I did not get out as much as desired. The Springs, as the town is called, (but the springs are six miles away) is a beautiful little city of fifteen thousand people, but about all that is talked of here is mining and free silver. A man would hardly be safe to say that he was for anything else but free silver, so I keep mum.

I went to church the first Sunday I got there. I found one of our churches, a very nice little brick, but a small congregation, and the preacher was still smaller. However, I think they must all have been good people for they all commended—Betsy Jane and the children. There was one thing that didn't strike me right. I went to church a little while before Sunday School was over and was waiting until church time when two boys slipped out and came to me and said "Mister, give me a chew of tobacco." I thought of home fifty years ago.

There is scarcely anybody who walks in this country. They either go on the street cars or on bicycles. Talk about your wheels, men, women and children ride them. Just think of a city the size of Denver with thirty thousand wheels running—one wheel to every five people. I have often heard the song about the bicycle built for two, but I never saw the machine until I got to Denver.

The people are very plain and sociable. I didn't see but two men with long hair, or with hair parted in the middle. One was a barber and the other didn't have good sense.

The Ashland Daily News says: John C. C. Mayo, the Big Sandy hustler who has spent many years and much money interesting capitalists in the lead of the Big Sandy valley, passed through the city Thursday evening enroute to Louisville from Philadelphia, where he attended a meeting of the projectors of the revived C.C.'s railroad movement. Mr. Mayo has not stated definitely when he expects active work to begin on the road, but he has stated that there are brighter prospects than ever before, and that the men behind the matter are better prepared to push it to a successful issue than any who have entered the movements in the past.

A special to the Courier Journal tells of two killings reported to have occurred in Pike county as follows:

John Matney shot and killed John Thacker near Fish Trap. Thacker was whipping his wife when Matney came up and demanded that he desist. Thacker drew a knife and advanced upon Matney, whereupon Matney drew a revolver and fired twice upon Thacker. Matney then went to Pikeville and executed bond for $5,000 for his appearance Monday.

The other killing took place on Peter Creek, where Jacob Smith shot James Coleman through the heart in an apple orchard. Coleman was intoxicated and had threatened Smith. Smith is under arrest.

The following occurrence was in Breathitt county:

There was a dance on the Laurel Fork of Quicksand last night and about 10 o'clock Sam Fitzpatrick came to the dance intoxicated, shooting out the lights and terrorizing the women, who fainted at his approach. The men present held a consultation and Daniel Oliver was selected to intercede with Fitzpatrick and get him away, but Fitzpatrick, mistaking Oliver's friendly interest, began shooting at him, but failed to hit him. When Oliver was near enough he grappled with Fitzpatrick with one hand and used his knife with the other, cutting Fitzpatrick a number of times in the back and side and also severing his jugular vein. Fitzpatrick died half an hour later. Oliver has not been arrested.

Johnson County.

Prof. J. G. Talbot of Flat Gap was here on business Wednesday.

Mr. Hayden of Medina, Ohio, was here last week taking depositions in a suit he has in his slate to rescind a deal for some of the West land.

John E. Reed, of Oil Springs, County Surveyor, was in town on official business.

Mrs. C. M. Conner and Mrs. Cy M. Preston are improving.

GET OUT

OF THE OLD RUT!

Employ modern painters, who work by modern processes, who use modern tools and do your work at modern prices. There are some old moss-back painters who have been in business 30 years, who charge you war prices, who do not advertise, who paint with antiquated tools, who do not study new methods or take or read any of the trade papers—they are BARKY NUMBERS! Why employ them? BUSINESS MEN look to us. They look at their pocket-books and employ men who do work up with the times!
